
Title: Citizens of Britannia!

Citizens of Britannia!

Heed the Call!

Long enough has Darkness stood unchallenged in our land! Long enough has the forces of light stood idly by as darkness overtakes the land, sweeping through our cities like locusts, devouring, consuming and destroying! Long enough have we allowed them to worm themselves into places of power, wedging themselves into positions of respect and control, all the while knowing what they are, but impotent to do anything of it.

Long enough have we bent knee to darkness!
The Age of Shadows is upon us.

We shall not go silently into the darkness. We shall fight the good fight!
We shall overcome!

I say to you, enough is enough!

The time has come my friends, the time has come.

I call upon you all, all followers of light, banded or unbanded, guilded or unguilded, solitary or united, I bid you all to come! Come to the Castle where our struggle began, come to the castle where our forgotten and fallen leader began his rule of virtue and light.

I bid you all, come to Castle British.

Sunday, the 23rd of March, at nine bells of the eve, I bid all virtuous souls of Britannia to come to British's Castle.

On that night, we will begin the fight. We will take back our lands! We will take back our nights!
We will Take back our Shrines!

We will reclaim our virtue.

In an Age of Shadows, a single torch is a beacon.
A handful of torches can light the way. An army of torches will drive the darkness away!

Show your solidarity.
Bring a torch and be prepared to show
darkness the light!

Sunday, the 23rd of March, at nine bells of
souls of Britannia to
come to British's Castle.

Come my brethren, let us reclaim our world!
